“my approach, my philosophy”

- what you won't get! - “the star dj”
 - no sunglasses
 - no blow up guitars or saxophones
 - no hawaiian leis
 - no singing or dancing djs
 - no sequins or multi colored tuxedos

in other words, the obnoxious host whose main function is to attract all the attention

“my approach, my philosophy”

- what you will get! – a professional who is:
 - a member of the national association of mobile entertainers (n.a.m.e.)
 - fully insured
 - always dressed appropriately
 - great at reading your audience
 - knowledgeable in all music styles
 - technically trained

In other words, a trained professional who cares more about your special day than you do.

equipment inventory

- equipment is top of the line commercial grade from manufacturers such as rane, gemini, mackie, fender, numark and shure
- the sound is tremendous and never too loud (like bands or orchestras)
(volume is continuously monitored throughout the event enabling your guests to carry on a conversation)
- 5 complete systems on hand at every event for backup purposes
- cds never skip (all cd players employ latest anti-shock technology)
- both wired & wireless microphones

music library

- consists of over 60,000 selections on 5,000 cds from the 1920s through today
- includes all types of music like big band, standards, classic rock, pop, top 40, disco, dance, classical, jazz, adult contemporary and hip hop
- the wedding day playlist is the result of the dj working closely with bride & groom
- couples are strongly encouraged to submit both a “do” play and a “don’t” play request list (your input matters)

frequently asked questions

- do you have a dvd or video of one of your performances?

while seeing someone in action is the best way to make a decision, most companies edit their dvds so that all you'll see is 15 minutes of them being perfect. come out and see a live performance as it happens.

- do you use a laptop or ipods? i've heard of dj companies that strictly use computers. isn't that better?

not necessarily. computers crash and a lot of companies don't bring backup systems. that's why i bring 5 systems to every event. besides anyone can be a laptop or ipod dj. that's not true dj'ing. being a dj requires experience, voice training, and an understanding of people, NOT JUST MUSIC. with all that in mind, new technologies are being added regularly once they have been rigorously system tested giving chuck russo clients the best solution for their musical needs.

- if i hire you, do i get you or one of your djs?

chuck russo, professional disc jockeys is a small privately owned operation that has succeeded for over 20 years by offering the personal touch and being available whenever necessary. that type of service is not normal with the large dj companies or agencies that attempt to plug one of their many staff djs into your very special event
